RIFLE ASSOCIATION

The annual meeting of the Saskatchewan Rifle Association was held in the Town Hall on Wednesday evening last. There was not a very large attendance of members, owing to some having other meetings to attend at the same hour and the absence from town of others. The president, Mr. J. L. Johnson, called the meeting to order at 8:30 and called on the secretary to read the minutes of last meeting, which was done. After the minutes had been confirmed Mr. Brewster read his annual report as sec.-treasurer and submitted his accounts, the same having been duly audited and found correct. The Treasurer's statement was most gratifying, and showed a balance on hand of $33.76; the report was adopted. Mr. Johnson then gave a short address in which he announced that he would not accept re-election as he had already been president for three years; he had done all he could to make the association successful and had been well backed up by the other officers and the members generally; he felt that Mr. Brewster was entitled to more credit than any one else for the satisfactory state in which the association stood; the association had during 1888 competed with every other in the North West and had come off victorious in all contests, and we now stand at the head of the list as marksmen; while he would not be an office bearer this year he would still do all in his power to further the interests of the association.

Some discussion took place as to the advisability of making amendments in the constitution, but the matter was left over for future consideration.

The election of officers for the ensuing year was then proceeded with, and on motion of A. Goodfellow, seconded by F. C. Baker, the president, vice-presidents and secretary-treasurer were elected by ballot. Mr. W. R. Gann was appointed scrutineer. The following officers were elected:—President, John Stewart; 1st vice-President, Major Perry; 2nd vice-President, A. Goodfellow; Secretary, Treasurer, T. J. Agnew; Auditors, J. L. Johnson and S. Brewster; Representative Member, Ed. Waldo, Ottawa; Committee, T. McKay, Sergt. Parker, F. E. Baker, D. Williamson, W. J. Hurd, H. W. Newlands, John McTaggart, George Cockerill, F. C. Baker and A. R. Burns; Patron, Hon. L. Clarke; vice Patrons, D. H. Macdonald, M.P., J. L. Johnson, and Sheriff Hughes. The following gentlemen were elected honorary members—Hon. L. Clarke, O. E. Hughes and E. Waldo.

Votes of thanks were passed to the retiring president and secretary, to the council and to Major Perry for the use of the Police range and tents, after which the meeting adjourned.

For some time past the merchants have been missing articles placed for show outside of their store doors and until yesterday could get no clue as to who the thief was. A few days ago Mr. G. Russell, of Russell & Davis, butchers, met a young Sioux "buff" with a dressed chicken which he thought the Indian did not come by honestly, as Indians do not often indulge in chicken broth, so he concluded to watch the chicken's movements in future and was amply rewarded yesterday. Mr. Russell was standing in his shop door and saw the Indian coming down street towards his place; he hid himself behind some beef where he could see everything going on in the store without himself being noticed; the Indian in passing saw no one apparently in the store walked in and stamped on the floor, but getting no answer to his call, and thinking the place was without an attendant, he went behind the counter and took $4 from the till. Mr. Russell let his man leave the store before he came from his hiding place; he watched the Indian go into another store, when Mr. Russell followed him and saw him spending the stolen money, whereupon the Indian was arrested and taken to the barracks. He was committed for trial by Supr. Perry. It is seldom the Indians here commit any grave offence; they have always proved very good.

Douglas Peterson left for his home in Guelph on Wednesday. Doug. was an old-timer in the settlement and will be missed by a large number of friends. He does not expect to return for some time. We wish him success.

H. Mitchell, M.L.A., for Batoche, has been in town for the last few days, and leaves to-day for Duck Lake. Mr. Mitchell will start immediately for Regina to attend a meeting of the Advisory Board on the 25th inst.

The members of Kintistino Lodge are requested to meet at the lodge room on Sunday evening, the 27th inst., at 6:30 o'clock sharp, to attend divine worship in St. Alban's Church. The service will be conducted by the Rev. A. H. Wright, chaplain of the lodge.

The new town council will meet on Monday evening next in the council chamber, for the first time. The council is composed as follows:—Mayor, Jos. Knowles; Councillors, Chas. Weoman, S. J. Donaldson, W. B. Goodfellow, Jas. Sanderson, T. O. Davis and R. Mann.

The balance of our winter goods will be sold at cost. We are offering a Grey Flannel at 25c per yard, Lamb Caps for $5, Lamb Coats $20, Tweed Overcoats $35, Men's Lined Overcoats $1 75, Ladies' Overcoats $1. All other winter goods will be cut in same proportion. Walters & Baker.

It is reported around town that glanders is very prevalent among horses at Fort a la Corne and that the disease is spreading this way. Yesterday Mr. T. E. Baker was notified by the authorities that his horse was affected by this fatal disease and that he would have to kill and burn the animal. It would be well for every person to take the greatest care of their horses and water them at home instead of allowing them to run to the river.

The members of F Division, N. W. M. P., intend giving a minstrel show at the barracks on Wednesday evening next in aid of the monument fund, for the erection of a monument over the graves of their comrades who fell at Duck Lake during the rebellion. The show will consist of singing, banjo solos and duets and other instrumental music; the whole to be concluded by the side-splitting farce of "Rouss to Let." The tickets are very reasonable and should be secured by everyone.

A Friend in Need.

Miss Addie Howison, Brockville, Ont., says:—I had catarrh for years, my head was so stopped up I could not breathe through my nostrils. My breath was very impure and continually so. Nothing I could use gave me any relief until using Nasal Balm. From the very first it gave me relief and in a very short time had removed the accumulation so that I could breathe freely through the nostrils. Its effect on my breath was truly wonderful, purifying, and removing every vestige of the unpleasant odor, which has never returned.

The Irvine Banquet.

On Tuesday evening last the citizens of Prince Albert gave a banquet to Lieut. Col. Irvine at the Queen's Hotel as an expression of the high regard and esteem in which he is held here. Over fifty of our leading citizens sat down to dinner and the number would have been far greater had there been more accommodation in the dining hall, but the committee found it necessary to limit the number of tickets. Many of the ladies expressed a wish to be present, but for the same reason it was found impossible to accommodate them and we were consequently deprived of the pleasure of their company. Of the dinner itself we cannot speak too highly; Mr. Oram's well known reputation as a caterer is a sufficient guarantee that it would be first class, as indeed it was, and we can say more, that it was without exception the best ever served up in Prince Albert.

The chair was occupied by Capt. Thos. McKay and the vice-chairs by Mr. Chas. Mair and Dr. Bain; on the right of the chairman were Col. Irvine, the guest of the evening, Supt. Perry and Mr. O. E. Hughes, and on his left sat Mr. H. Mitchell and the Hon. L. Clarke. Amongst the rest of the company, who were present were J. F. Betts, M.L.A., W. R. Gunn, Sergt. Parker, Corp. Kerr, T. N. Campbell, Corp. St. John, G.S. Davidson, T. J. Agnew, R. Ouellet, J. D. Maveety, R. C. Wignore, F. C. Baker, Wm. Tait, Rev. Canon Flett, Ven. Archdeacon G. McKay, Const. Tessier, Const. Gingras, S. J. Donaldson, J. L. Johnson, John E. Sinclair, W. V. MacLise, E. J. Rankin, J. Sanderson, A. S. Stewart, J. D. Hanafin, A. B. Sproat, James Sinclair, Chas. Woodman, H. Woodman, A. E. McKay, R. Gwynne, James McKay, J. O. McKay, H. McDougall, Const. Harrison, Const. Andersen, Const. Godson, Const. Hooper, and others.

After the cloth was removed the chairman proposed the following toasts: "The Queen;" "The Prince of Wales and the Royal Family;" "The Governor-General and Lieut. Governor;" all of which were right royally received and duly honored; Corp. St. John sang in excellent style, "The Soldier's Glory," after which the chairman proposed the toast of the evening, "Our Guest;" in doing so he referred to Col. Irvine's former connection with Prince Albert; this was Col. Irvine's first visit since 1885 and this reception was tendered him to show that we approved of his actions during the rebellion and since, and to show our appreciation of the interest he had ever taken in our welfare and his past services in our behalf; he, the chairman, was pleased to see so many of those present who had served under the gallant colonel during the rebellion; he spoke of the many good qualities of Col. Irvine and the stand he had taken in the Northwest Council in behalf of the Prince Albert volunteers and N. W. M. Police. His present mission was to treat with the northern Indians and the Government could not have made a wiser selection. Before the toast was drunk the Hon. L. Clarke made a few remarks in which he referred to the past career of Col. Irvine and passed a warm eulogy on him; he had known Col. Irvine for a long time, first as an officer in the Red River expedition under General Wolseley, then in the Fenian raid of 1870 and afterwards as Commissioner of the Police force, in all of which positions he had acquitted himself with honor; in the early days he had succeeded in establishing such a high reputation for the police force that with very small numbers he was able to control and preserve peace amongst the Indians in the southern portion of the Territories, and had by his uniform courtesy and kindness endeared himself to all with whom he came in contact. Mr. Clarke referred to the Duck Lake fight, and the evacuation of Carlton which he considered a wise move; he referred to the difficulties with which Col. Irvine had to contend during the rebellion, and considered that he had at least the approval of the citizens of Prince Albert and was entitled to their lasting gratitude. The toast was received with the utmost enthusiasm, and was drunk with Highland honors.

The gallant colonel, on rising to respond, was received with deafening cheers, and had to wait a few moments until the noise subsided. He said that he was not a public speaker, and on the present occasion he was unable to find words to give expression to his feelings; but he would ask those present to accept his most sincere thanks for the manner in which they had drunk his health and for the magnificent reception that had been accorded him; he felt almost that he did not deserve it. (Cries of you do. After the rebellion, and when he was about to leave Prince Albert, the citizens had been good enough to present him with an address endorsing his actions during that troubled time, and he was glad to find that after the lapse of nearly four years they entertained the same sentiments towards him. As to his actions in the Northwest Council, he considered that he was only doing his plain duty in supporting the claims of the N. W. M. Police and the P. A. Volunteers, and in trying to get for them what they deserved and were entitled to. The Prince Albert Volunteers deserved the same recognition as those from the eastern provinces. They did their duty nobly and served well in battle; they are entitled to medals and should get them. He went on to say that he came to Red River in 1870 under Gen. Wolseley, and was proud of having had the honor to serve under him, whom he considered was England's greatest living general. He assisted Governor Archibald in making a treaty with Indians at Lower Fort Garry in 1871 and was in command of the forces at Fort Garry for four years, after which he entered the Police Force and went to McLeod, and with the Force had either made or assisted in making every Indian treaty in the Northwest. He was proud of having served in and commanded the N. W. M. Police, and felt that all members of the Force should take a pride in serving in it. It had done good work in the Northwest, and was still doing so. After again thanking those present for the honor done him, Col. Irvine resumed his seat amidst a perfect storm of applause.

Const. Tessier being called upon, gave a song, after which Mr. Mair, from the 1st vice chair, proposed the Legislative Assembly and Town Council; coupled with the names of J. F. Betts, M.L.A., and J. Kuvies, Mayor elect. In proposing the toast, Mr. Mair made a short reference to the constitution of the N.W. Council and the character of its members and also to the constitution of the present Legislature and the advances that had been made towards responsible government for the Territories.

Mr. Betts was glad to be present to do honor to the guest of the evening. He had intended to make a long speech but Mr. Mair had done it for him. He had made it his first duty at Regina to search the journals of the N. W. Council and he found that the three stipendiary magistrates, who sat in that council, of whom Col. Irvine was one, had done everything they possibly could at all times in the interests of Prince Albert. While at Regina he (Mr. Betts) had taken a great interest in the legislation before the Assembly more especially the Municipal Ordinance, which he expected would be found to work well; he referred to the constitution of the Assembly and the harmony that existed between it and the Lieut. Governor.

In the absence of Mr. Knowles, Dr. Bain was called upon to respond for the council; he regretted the absence of the mayor-elect and was happy to meet Col. Irvine here; referring to the town council, he said that last year they had endeavored to do what they considered best for the town and would go out of office conscious of having done so; they had had difficulties to contend against and the new council would find the same.

Mr. Johnson referred to the work done by the council of 1888 and thought they had done all in their power in the interests of the town and believed that the council of 1889 would do the same.

Mr. S. J. Donaldson also responded on behalf of the council. Corp. St. John sang his usual capital style song "The Girl in the Pinafore Dress."

The next toast from the vice-chair was "The Northwest Mounted Police and the Prince Albert volunteers," coupled with the names of Supt. Perry and Major Young. In proposing the toast, Mr. Mair spoke of the value of the police to the country and of its high efficiency, and he regretted that difficulties had at times arisen between the force and settlers owing to the liquor laws in force. The toast was enthusiastically received, after which Mr. J. L. Johnson sang "The R. F. of England" in a first class manner.

Supt. Perry on rising to respond for the police, was received with cheers. He was proud to say he had served under Col. Irvine, than whom there had not been a better officer in the force; he referred to some length to Col. Irvine's career and record in the Police Force and had always found him to be a true hearted gentleman, and that was the opinion of the whole force and that universal regret was felt by those whom he commanded when it became known that he was about to sever his connection with them. Col. Irvine had managed the Indians well, he had always treated them with justice and had even expended his own money time and again making them gifts; there were times when greater responsibilities rested upon him than during the rebellion, and one was in dealing with the Sioux after the Custer massacre, but the colonel was equal to every emergency, and had always done his duty well. He regretted that the police and civilians should ever have any trouble, there was a good feeling existing between them and always had been and he hoped always would continue.

Major Young not being present, Staff-Sergt. Parker made a few remarks in reply to the toast.

The "Learned Professions" was the next toast and was responded to by Dr. Bain, W. V. MacLise and Archdeacon McKay, who each made short but appropriate speeches.

A French song "Le Brigadier" was well rendered by Const. Gingras.

Dr. Bain, from the 2nd vice-chair, proposed "The Land We Live in" and coupled with it the name of Mr. C. Mair.

Mr. Mair on rising to respond paid a very high tribute to Col. Irvine and referred to the past history of Canada, to French aggression and annexation. He was opposed to annexation; we must cultivate national sentiment and in that respect imitate the Americans, then we should have nothing to fear from any quarter. He spoke of the great future in store for our country and of the duty of Canadians to discuss that future from every point of view; annexation we do not want and will not have. He believed in Imperial Federation and had always been a strong advocate of it and had no doubt as to the feasibility of the scheme. Mr. Mair's speech was a grand effort and we cannot begin to do it justice.

"The Ladies" was next proposed, and after being duly honored, was responded to by Mr. T. N. Campbell.

The last toast on the programme was "The Press," and was replied to by Mr. W. R. Gunn, in a short speech.

Col. Irvine then proposed the health of the chairman, Mr. McKay, which was drunk with enthusiasm, and was acknowledged by Mr. McKay.

Supt. A. B. Perry proposed "Absent Friends," mentioning Col. Sproat, Major Crozier and Major H. S. Moore. After the toast had been duly honored, Hon. L. Clarke made a somewhat lengthy speech, in which he made feeling references to those mentioned in the toast and to Col. Irvine, of whom he spoke in most flattering terms.

Mr. Hughes made a short speech, in which he bore testimony to the great interest always taken by Col. Irvine when a member of the Northwest Council in Prince Albert, and of the very valuable assistance he had received from him in the Council.

Mr. R. C. Wignore also made a short speech, in which he expressed his pleasure in being present at a banquet given to Col. Irvine.

Three cheers for the Queen and three for Col. Irvine brought the dinner to a close. It was in every respect a success, and the gentlemen who had the management of it are to be congratulated on the manner in which everything was arranged and the success with which their efforts were crowned.
